

REIGN OF THOMPSON AS CHICAGO'S MAYOR ENDED BY DEMOCRAT

Anton J. Cermak's Majority is 200,000 in Sweeping Election Tuesday

REFORM IS PROMISED

Chicago in Management of Democrats after Count

CHICAGO, April 8.—While his record-breaking victory over Mayor William Hale Thompson is being canvassed officially today, Anton J. Cermak, Democrat, is preparing to take office late tomorrow or Friday morning as the fifty-seventh mayor of Chicago.

Cermak, familiarly known as "Tony," emerged yesterday from one of the bitterest elections ever fought here with the added honor of being chosen to serve during the 1933 world's fair.

He was elected by a majority of 191,916 votes in an election in which 1,143,142 votes were cast for a new city election record.

OFF FOR CRUISE

Mayor Thompson, accepted his defeat cheerfully, retires today. He

Crime At An End In Chicago, Says Cermak

CHICAGO, April 8.—Anton J. Cermak, newly elected mayor, today had served warning on criminals that "they no longer shall find a hiding place here and that the days of sharpshooters are over."

After his sweeping victory yesterday over Mayor William Hale Thompson, Cermak declared over the radio that corruption shall go from "our midst and that crime has come to an end in Chicago."

will leave the city for a ten day cruise with a party of friends down the Mississippi and Tennessee rivers.

Cermak, a native Bohemian, who rose from a coal miner to become one of Chicago's political figures, won in forty-five of the city's fifty wards, even carry Mayor Thompson's home ward by a substantial majority.

Upon taking the reins of the city government, Cermak will resign as president of the board of county commissioners, an office in which he was starting his third term.

The record-breaking majority that swept Cermak into office broke the 1913 mark established by Thompson at the time of his first election.

Although Thompson waged what was virtually a lone-handed fight, he polled 475,613 votes in his attempt to win a fifth term.

DEMS IN POWER

The result yesterday was not surprising in view of the fact that Cermak, a "wet" politician, is probably one of the most resourceful leaders of the Democratic party. His win recalls the record-breaking vote recently garnered by Sen. James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, for the United States senatorship.

Cermak has held office here uninterruptedly for twenty-eight years, elevating himself from the member of the lower house of the legislature to the presidency of the county board and chairmanship of the Democratic county central committee.

As a consequence of the election, the Democrats now control the city and county.

Although disappointed that he could not be world's fair mayor, "Big Bill," as the mayor is affectionately called, took his defeat with a smile. He said he abides cheerfully by the people's decision and added he would devote his future time toward the two projects closest to his heart - a flood control and completion of the Lake-to-Toledo-Gulf-Waterway.

PROMISES REFORM

Cermak took his sweeping victory solemnly. He thanked all who supported him and heralded his election as the dawn of a new day for Chicago.

MAN IS KILLED, BANDIT CAUGHT

CHICAGO, April 8.—One man is dead today, another is reported dying, a third wounded and a woman is recovering from bruises inflicted by a bold bandit who ran amuck in a loop department store here yesterday.

The bandit, Fred Smith, 37, was caught in a wild chase through the store after he had held up and robbed a woman cashier of $1,100 as she stood on an "L" station platform in the loop.

Vanquished

Anton J. Cermak, Democrat, ended the regime of "Big Bill" Thompson, Chicago's mayor for the past four terms, by nearly 200,000 votes at the city election Tuesday. The blow was a sad one to the Thompson political machine in the "Windy City."

Cermak's first move after being assured of the election was to announce that the reign of crime in Chicago must come to an end at once. He promised unrelenting efforts to bring back the city's good name.

We are sure the readers of The Herald have become better acquainted with some of the citizens of Circleville through this column and will regret to hear that for the present the column will be discontinued. Should his physicians permit him to continue to write The Herald hopes to again add this feature to its columns. 'Til then we wish Al a speedy recovery.

LONGWORTH IS SERIOUS

Speaker of House Suffering From Pneumonia in Aiken, S. C.; Wife With Him.

AIKEN, S. C., April 8.—The condition of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, suffering from a touch of pneumonia, was reported today as serious but not critical.

He is confined here at the home of James F. Curtis, of Washington. He came here several days ago with a cold. Yesterday morning, it developed into pneumonia and he immediately went to bed upon a physician's orders.

Mrs. Longworth is with him. Their daughter, Paulina, is in Cincinnati.

The following statement was made by Dr. Robert H. Wilds, of Aiken, the attending physician, shortly after Mrs. Longworth's arrival:

"Mr. Longworth has had a mild form of pneumonia for the past two and a half days, there is no immediate danger and recovery will begin soon unless complications set in.

"The infection is in the upper lobe of the right lung. His pulse is 101 degrees, all of which are low for pneumonia patients. His vitality is very good."

Prior to Dr. Wilds' statement, considerable confusion prevailed nor was it definitely known whether or not he had contracted pneumonia.

Dr. Wilds explained that prior to Mrs. Longworth's arrival he would not assume the responsibility of giving out information regarding his condition.

Members of the Curtis household likewise maintained a silence regarding Speaker Longworth's condition, and reporters were informed he was "suffering from a cold."

THINK FATHER SET FIRE TO DEATH CABIN

Spectre of Hopeless Poverty Thought to Have Caused Act Fatal to 8

SECOND ANGLE SEEN

Lone Survivor of Ohio Holocaust Tells Story

GALLIPOLIS, O., April 8.—Possibility that a father, faced by the stark spectre of hopeless poverty, may have deliberately fired his log cabin along the Ohio river near here to take his own life and those of his eight children, loomed today as authorities investigated the horrible tragedy.

The conflagration occurred during the early morning hours yesterday while James White, 59-year-old father, and his eight children slept in their humble log cabin home on the banks of the Ohio river near Swan Creek.

The father and seven of his children perished. An eighth child, George White, 12, escaped and staggered to the nearest neighbor to call assistance. The 12-year-old survivor was seriously burned in the holocaust.

INQUEST STARTED

The fire swept the tiny log cabin as though it was made of paper. By the time neighbors arrived at the scene, the cabin was a blazing furnace. The intense heat of the flames made impossible any attempt to rescue the bodies of the poverty-stricken father and his seven children.

In addition to White, the victims of the fire were: Mary White, 20; James, 18; John, 14; Ira, 8; May, 5; and two twin daughters, Nora and Dora, 3. The wife and mother died when the twins were born.

An inquest into the deaths was started today by Gallia-co coroner.

Authorities said White was "hopelessly poor," at times scarcely having the bare needs of life. Only a week ago, it was revealed, Probate Judge James Clark ordered four of White's youngest children sent to a county home because the man was unable to care for them. White objected, taking his children, disappeared.

MAY HAVE BEEN COAL

In the face of his poverty, White, driven to desperation, may have deliberately planned and set the fire of his cabin, authorities said in attempting to solve the origin of the blaze.

Another theory was that a lump of burning coal may have fallen on the floor of the cabin and caused the conflagration while the family slept.

Twelve-year-old George White, battling for his life in a hospital, told authorities that the first he was aware of the blaze was when he awakened to find his bed on fire. He said he escaped by jumping out of a window.

EXPECT CROWD AT DEDICATION

Announcement was made Wednesday that in case of inclement weather Friday, the dedication of the "Road of Remembrance" at 3 p. m. will be held in the court house instead of at the entrance of the avenue south of the city on the Chillicothe-pk.

A large crowd is expected at the dedication.

TAX TO FORCE SUMMER TERM OF ASSEMBLY?

Summer Sessions Would Include Tax, Budget According to Plan

MONTH IS NEEDED Delay of Special Committee on Tax Blamed

COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—Summertime sessions of the state legislature for the consideration of taxation and budget problems were proposed here today in a resolution which, when introduced, will ask that the return of the assembly after its recess Friday be delayed until May 11.

Scheduled to return here April 27, after a 17-day recess, the legislature would delay its reopening of the session an additional two weeks because of the failure of the special taxation committee to complete its preparation of tax bills to be considered at the meeting following the adjournment.

Such a plan would keep the most of the month of June and possibly until the early part of July it was estimated.

Senator Earl R. Lewis (R) of St. Clairsville, president pro tem of the senate, was said to have drawn the resolution which he expected to introduce today or tomorrow.

Senator Robert A. Taft (R) of Cincinnati, chairman of the taxation committee, asked the change because he feels that an entire month of work will be needed to study the taxation suggestions that have been made, it was reported.

CONTROL OF WHEAT MART IS CENSORED

Chicago Board of Trade Makes Recommendations For Crop's Handling

U. S. SHOULD RESIGN Can't Interfere with Supply, Demand He Says

CHICAGO, Ill., April 8.—Accumulations of wheat made by the Federal Farm board in its stabilization program are a "menace" to coming crops, James C. Murray, president of the Chicago board of trade, charged today in an address before the association of commerce.

"Passage of the agricultural marketing act intended to be of benefit to the farmer has admittedly failed of its purpose," Murray said. "Able managed by honest men interested in the working out of a definite scheme of farm relief, the operation under the act has again demonstrated the futility of interference with the normal action and reaction to supply and demand."

MEASURES NAMED
It has now been clearly shown that the stabilization program has completely failed to maintain the market on a satisfactory level, Murray declared.

The board of trade, according to Murray, makes these recommendations:

1. That the government divest itself of the business of merchandising grain, the surplus already stored up to be handled by the regular dealers with the least possible disturbance to the marketing of the coming crops.

2. That in assisting the development of cooperative marketing government funds should not be used at lower rates of interest in the merchandising of commodities in competition with the established trade.

3. That the maintenance of a free and open market for grain is essential to the best interests of the producer and consumer.

4. That the market should be relieved of "unnecessary detailed governmental supervision and bureaucratic control."

Murray spoke on the eve of the board of trade's 83rd birthday.

JUNK DEALER DIES IN CHAIR

COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—Across the prison record of Arthur Hamilton, 41-year-old Bellefontaine junk-dealer, today was written in red ink "Electrocuted, April 7, 1931."

LOBBYISTS FOR WAR VETERANS SEEK OUTRIGHT GIFTS OF LOANS

That lobbyists for the organized war veterans are now planning to turn the billion dollar total of soldiers' loans into an outright gift, is the charge made by Walter Davenport, associate editor of Collier's Weekly, in a report on the Washington situation which will be published tomorrow.

The organized veterans now have the inside track with Congress and will hold it, Mr Davenport declares, quoting one of their lobbyist leaders as follows: "We're going to crowd bills upon Congress while the crowding is good. Within two years there will appear in Congress a bill making a loan a gift. We take it for granted that 90 per cent of the borrowers will not repay the loan or even the interest. If they don't do this, the interest will eat up the 50 per cent which the veter-

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF FORD VALUE

Bright, enduring RUSTLESS STEEL is used for many exposed bright metal parts of the Ford

WHEN YOU BUY a Ford you buy enduring beauty. The body finish is made to last for the life of the car and practically all exposed bright metal parts except the bumpers are made of enduring Rustless Steel.

This Rustless Steel has great tensile strength. It is the same bright metal all the way through. A salt test equivalent to forty years' service under the severest weather conditions failed to have any effect on its brilliance. It never requires polishing. All you do is wipe it with a damp cloth, as you do your windshield.

This is just one of many features that show the substantial worth of the Ford. In speed, comfort, safety, economy and long life—in the richness of its finish and upholstery—it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

ans can't borrow. We don't dare ask Congress to increase the borrowing limit to 100 per cent of the face value of the adjusted service compensation certificates, but we can ask Congress to cancel the loans."

The majority of congressmen come from rural districts where veterans and their friends can swing things politically. Mr. Davenport shows "Nevertheless," Mr. Davenport says, "Veterans of the World War have already received nearly three-fourths as much as has been granted to survivors of all previous wars. The World War cost the United States about 22 billion dollars, which does not include the 8 1/2 billions advanced to the allies. That 22 billion would have carried the Revolutionary War on for a thousand years.

"Since Nov. 11, 1918, the government has spent 5 1/2 billions in its efforts to repay the veterans for sacrifices made. The gift of a billion dollars this year to a relatively small class of people gives cause for thought. American veterans, including all pensioners, today represent numerically about five per cent of the population. For their relief, exclusive of the new loan, nearly $900,000,000 is to be disbursed this year. The new loans add another indefinite amount of something less than a billion dollars to this total. Aside from the loans, it is clear that five per cent of the population is receiving nearly 25 per cent of what we spend to run the government.

"Love for the veteran may have been uppermost in the minds of some of the national legislators who passed this loan bill, but I would not set the number high. After talking to many congressmen, I am convinced that the appeal of 10,000 chambers of commerce, merchants clubs and banks was more potent than the call of the veteran. The resentment of the non-veteran, thousands of whom wrote hot letters to Washington, will last much longer than the money. No one who has investigated the potentialities of the legislation can fail to recognize its menace to future veteran legislation.

"The unfortunately worded importunities and threats of some of the ex-service men's spokesmen left a number of sore spots in both houses of Congress although the members thus irritated voted for the passage before and after the veto.

"There can be no doubt that the whole experience has left a large number of erstwhile friendly legislators more than slightly apathetic toward the veteran programs for the immediate future.

"If grants to veterans should increase in the next 10 years in the same progression as they have grown in the past decade, Congress would be setting aside 45 per cent of the cost of government in 1941. And the percentage of the population represented by the veterans would be somewhat decreased.

"If Federal taxes are increased next year on the ground that Congress's liberality is to blame, the veteran is going to have quite a time putting over any appropriation legislation beyond that necessary to the work of the Veterans Administration under existing laws.

"In times of peace, the soldier and sailor are popular as long as they do not cost too much. But anyone who thinks that the $900,000,000 the veterans will receive this year and the billion, more or less, the government is lending him is the ultimate, is incapable of thought.

"Yet, somewhere between what the veteran has obtained and what, at the same rate of past legislation, he would receive 10 or 15 years hence if the Treasury could stand it, lies the last word. That last word will, doubtless, be a monthly pension granted to all ex-service men—the old pension system with all its faults, its fraud possibilities and its absurd inadequacies.

"Since Nov. 11, 1918 the United States has spent five and a half billions in its efforts to repay the veterans and their dependents for sacrifices made.

"These disbursements have flowed through eight channels. They are (1) adjusted service compensation, (2) medical care and hospitalization, (3) disability compensation, (4) government insurance, (5) term insurance paid for permanent and total disability, (6) disability allowances, (7) emergency officers' retirement pay, and (8) compensation for death from causes directly connected with service.

"Fraud is entirely possible and doubtless frequent. As the law exists, it is almost unavoidable. But what hurts the veteran most is the unfairness it breeds.

"Certainly something radical should come to pass to eradicate the inequalities that our jumbled, patch-up-on-patch veterans' laws have brought about. Why, for example, should a former officer, a captain in the quartermaster's department for two months during the war, and now working for the Veterans Bureau at an annual salary of $9,000 receive $187.50 a month, disability allowance?" At any rate he does.

"One of the doctors on the staff which rated him into $187.50 a month caused himself to be awarded $125 a month—pronounced unfit for work and placed on the retired list. Yet he draws $5,000 a year as an examining physician for the Bureau."

MARCH LICENSE MART IS LOW

Old Dan Cupid's arrows weren't flying so fast during March, according to marriage license records at probate court, which reveal only 18 licenses being obtained in this third month of the year. However, only 16 were sent away for better or worse last year in the same month.

April is considered a fine month for romance, and this appears to be true already, as five licenses were secured over the week end.

DRYS TO RALLY ON APRIL 13-14

COLUMBUS, O.—Drys of Ohio will sweep down on the state capital by the hundreds April 13 and 14 to organize to fight the referendum on the state prohibition amendment, which wets are determined to force through the use of initiated petitions.

Anti-Saloon League leaders in all parts of the state have combined to plan what they declare will be the greatest temperance rally in a decade.

Headquarters have been set up at what they say is the "driest hotel" in the city and a score of speakers who have repeatedly fought liquor and the saloon have been given places on the program.

Governor George White is listed as a speaker for Tuesday afternoon, April 14, and although the governor has never expressed himself as either definitely wet or dry, leaders hope he will lend encouragement to their cause.

Prohibition Commissioner Clarence H. Sears, who at the beginning of his tenure announced a reorganization policy in the prohibition department in an attempt to obtain greater efficiency, will be one of Monday's speakers.

Sears was a crusader against liquor in the days when legality of saloons was decided by local option and the dries hope he will come to their aid in their fight against Senator Joseph N. Ackerman (R) of Cleveland, and his supporters, who hope to compel a referendum in November.

To arouse dries to a fighting mood, officials in charge of the rally have arranged to bring here the "Georgian Cyclone," whose real name is Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, of Atlanta, Ga., president of the Georgia W. C. T. U. She will speak Monday night.

The man who founded the Anti-Saloon league, Dr. Howard H. Russell of Westerville, will preside at Monday night's meeting. Dr. F. Scott McBride, national superintendent of the league; Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington of Westerville, secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, and Dr. Daniel A. Poling, radio speaker and president of the International Christian Endeavor Society, are other speakers.

Several well-known educators will give talks. The list includes: Dr. William Oxley of Columbus, president emeritus of Ohio State University. Dr. J. Knox Montgomery of New Concord, president of Muskingum College, and Dr. W. G. Clippinger, president of Otterbein College.

Congressman C. Ellis Moore of Cambridge, Mrs. W. H. Swartz of Portsmouth, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs; W. F. Kirk of Port Clinton, master of the Ohio State Grange; Whiting Williams, Cleveland author, and many others also will speak.

A "friendly breakfast" where "something special" will be given is planned for Tuesday morning.

A prize of $100 will be given the county that sends the biggest delegation.

Savings On Ohio Autos Planned

COLUMBUS, O.—Savings of at least $300,000 a year in the operation of state-owned motor vehicles are the objective of recommendations made by a departmental committee assigned by Governor White to formulate an economy program. Officials on the committee which has just completed a survey of state automotive operations believe reduction of costs exceeding the $300,000 set by the Governor will be possible and that the total economies to be effected through proper control of state-owned cars and supervision of maintenance may reach $500,000 a year.

In an executive order to department heads directing adoption of the committee's recommendations the Governor said:

"The public feels and our departments apparently agree that last year's total automotive transport expense, exceeding three million dollars, is excessive. No more important service can be rendered Ohio taxpayers, particularly under present business conditions, than in seeing to it that the same policy of scrupulous economy be adhered to by the state that our industrial organizations find themselves forced to follow. I have requested that state automotive expense this year be cut at least 10 per cent over last. After reading the comprehensive recommendations of the committee, herewith formulated as an executive order, I feel convinced that your sincere and determined efforts to co-operate and to carry out these recommendations will make it possible to exceed greatly the minimum saving I requested."

Use of state cars on Sundays for personal purposes, an abuse that had grown up in the years preceding the White administration, is to be done away with through one of the rules framed by the committee. The rule provides that each director or head of an institution shall make such regulations concerning Sunday driving as will restrict use of state-owned cars to state business.

Other rules compiled by the committee are:

"A Division of Motor Transport coming directly under the engineer of maintenance shall be set up in the highway department under the supervision of a competent automotive executive to supervise all motor equipment, highway garages and county supply stations of the state. Insofar as each department, division and institution may find it economically possible, the transport division will repair, service, maintain and purchase supplies for all motor equipment belonging to the state.

"Any employee needing supplies, repairs or service shall be required to show a regular departmental identification card and sign an order stating the supplies and repairs wanted and turn it in with his 'Report of Operation of State Car' sheets.

"Buying of supplies and having repairs made outside of places authorized by the heads of departments or institutions shall be discouraged and where purchases are made outside of such places the person ordering them shall be required to pay for them and take a receipted bill to turn in with expense accounts. Such expense bills will not be honored when checked by the Division of the Budget if the items on them are out of line with prices for like items from authorized repair agencies.

"The Division of Motor Transport shall provide a pool of cars for the Columbus district for the purpose of lending cars to those whose cars are being repaired or those who only have occasional use for a car.

"All state-owned cars in the Columbus district shall be stored in state-owned or controlled buildings; otherwise the operator shall pay his own garage fees.

"Before any car or truck of any department is traded in or exchanged the department considering the change shall secure a report and recommendations from the superintendent of motor transport as to the condition and value of the equipment and no car shall be purchased without approval of the superintendent of motor transport."

Gasoline supplies purchased by the state at wholesale prices, making possible a saving of from three to seven cents per gallon, and oil on which 50 cents a gallon can be saved are to be available for state car operators at designated state stations.

The automotive economy campaign grew out of an investigation ordered by Howard L. Bevis, state finance director, when he learned that lack of centralized purchasing and servicing methods in the past and absence of any official supervision of the use of state cars had led to unwarranted expenditures and abuses.

Germany and Fascism

Fascism's decline in Germany has been as sudden as its rise. The Hitlerites scored an astounding victory in the Reichstag election 1930. September and they are now suffering defeats not less surprising. What little power was left to it was lost when Wilhelm Frick, premier fascist in Germany, was voted out of his position as minister of culture and the interior for the province of Thuringia. German fascism can get no encouragement from the defeat of the man who prior to last September was the best known fascist figure in all Germany.

The rise and fall of fascism in Germany are not difficult to explain. The great fascist poll of last year was in considerable measure due to economic discontent. Race hatred preached by Frick and Hitler appealed to the unhappy and illiterate peasant masses seeking an outlet to unpopular dynasties and regimes looking for a scapegoat.

Seasonal Unemployment

An important part of any permanent solution of the great industrial problem is the obviating of seasonal unemployment and its serious aggravation of periods of depression. A great gain will have been made when seasonal peaks and valleys can be evened into a more nearly continuous and steady output.

This is one of the problems before the committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce appointed to consider methods of stabilizing employment. Its members consider this and the creation of an industrial reserve as a precaution against depression of major importance.

The personnel of this committee members are all practical industrialists and financiers who are just as eager as the jobless to end these recurrent lean years for all lose heavily and many are run by every depression.

"MURDER AT EAGLE'S NEST" By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

The murder of Baroness von Weisse at Eagle's Nest stirred the town of Kingsville. Walter Vance, Assistant Chief of Police, is in charge of the investigation, aided by his fiancée, "Bim" Martin, young newspaper reporter. A note, written by the Baroness, is found near the body. Bim recalls seeing the Baroness slip the bullet a piece of paper, which she denies. Suspicion is cast on Harry Frost, whose band, Ted, had flirted with the Baroness. Mary's shawl is found wrapped around the body. Mary claims she was unable to locate the shawl and left with Ted. It develops she returned later for the shawl. Complications arise when it is learned that Laura Allan had borrowed the shawl. Emily Hardy's maid heard the Baroness quarrel with her maid. Bim wonders about the words on the head and arm of the Baroness maid. The jewels of the Baroness have been stolen.

CHAPTER VIII

As always when she saw Miss Laura Allan in these surroundings, Bim was struck by the vast difference between the smooth, attractive young woman and the members of the Pine Hill cove.

A Mysterious Woman

When she saw Miss Laura Allan in these surroundings, Bim was struck by the vast difference between the smooth, attractive young woman and the members of the Pine Hill cove. Laura Allan was tall and slender and dressed with a proud, sultry face and a cool, scornful smile. She was the world and had it wanted. Give more vivacity she would have been like a thin, burning flame; as it was she seemed to disappear under the floor.

She stooped and dug it out of the pebble dust in which it was imbedded.

nolds and Walter and seemed to understand their presence now. "It is not to be much help to the police of course."

The Check-Up

"Thank you. What time did you leave here last night?" he began, repeating the enquiry upon which seemed to hinge so much that might be of importance.

Another Clue

Bim studied it thoughtfully and then it came to her. "I found it in the pocket of my coat," she said, "and I found it in the pocket of my coat."

The best sellers owe their popularity to continuous advertising. No business concern can afford to pass up the opportunity advertising offers to make faster sales and increase popularity. The people's needs must be served, and there are business concerns everywhere ready and willing to meet their very want. Those who offer wares or service through the printed page are the ones the public knows best. People always buy things they know about in preference to those they never heard of. THERE IS ALWAYS BUSINESS FOR THOSE WHO AGGRESSIVELY GO AFTER IT BY ADVERTISING. THE FATE OF MANY A BUSINESS IS SEALED BY LACK OF ADVERTISING. THEIR EXISTENCE BEING UNKNOWN TO THE BUYING PUBLIC.

Recent developments in the hot-houses has made it possible for the growers to raise vegetables that a few years ago were procurable only in the regular summer season.
The 1931 appraisal of the property and equipment at the winter vegetable farms set the total value at $889,000.

Only One Solution

Because of a let-George-do-it attitude taken by all the conferences, the international wheat conference at Paris and Rome accomplished nothing. And for the same reason no profit is expected to result from the London conference next month.
All of the wheat-growing countries are anxious to the cause and the future of over-production and surplus acreage - but each wants the other to do the curbing. The medicine not to the wheat they would have the wheat as the full dose but do not want to take it.

AT THE MET
A ship of death sails into Whitby Harbor. Literally freighted with horrors, the cargo vessel Maude lurches up to the dock, after an escape from a terrific storm at sea. The ship has been abandoned by its crew. The mate, shrieking in terror, has thrown himself into the surging waters of the Atlantic. The captain, dead, and with a look of incredible horror on his face, slumps against the wheel, his hands lashed to its spokes. A brooding silence hangs over the vessel.
This is one of the striking situations in "Dracula." Universal's weird screen production of thrills and horrors, which is now at the Met theater.
Eventually the awed officials of the village go aboard the ship, to find a gibbering maniac locked in a cabin, intently engaged in catching flies. The superstitious villagers are completely mystified. They do not know that during the voyage the terrible Count Dracula, arch-fiend in human form, has crept out of a box deep in the hold of the ship and created a night of horror on the swaying decks!
Bela Lugosi plays "Dracula." Helen Chandler and David Manners assume the romantic roles. Dwight Frye, brilliant young dramatic actor, is seen as Renfield.
AT THE GRAND
Had all the authors in America deliberately conspired to write a play for Lowell Sherman, according to Alan Roscoe, character actor, they could not have produced a more appropriate one than Radio Pictures' "The Royal Bed," adapted from Robert E. Sherwood's stage success "The Queen's Husband," now at the Grand theater. "In 'Lawful Larceny' with Bebe Daniels, he was a polished, clever and rather fascinating thief!" "In 'The Pay Off' he was a brilliant, cultured gang leader." "But in 'The Royal Bed' he is humanized, possessed of the ordinary human heart. He portrays a lovable king of a mythical kingdom, a hen-pecked husband of a domineering Queen!" "The Royal Bed" includes in its cast Mary Astor, Nance O'Neill, Hugh Trevor, Anthony Bushnell, Robert Warwick, Alan Roscoe, Gilbert Emery, Frederick Burt, Garrol Naish and Desmond Roberts.

Don't Wait Until Sick to Seek Medical Advice

Periodic Health Examinations Are Surest Guard Against Ill Health, Says Dr. Copeland, Urging the Habit of Prevention Rather Than Cure.
By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

THERE is an enormous economic loss from ill health and disease. This cause costs the industrial world about three billions of dollars each year. Anything that prevents individuals from continuing with their work, is expensive to society. Sick people are chief of the factors of loss. In many instances the disease is a preventable one. With proper education and training it is possible to decrease this loss. It is hoped that future generations will eliminate it entirely. It is often said that the future of medicine lies in the direction of preventing disease and not in curing it. This is undoubtedly true. The medical profession recognizes the importance of the program of disease prevention. It now remains with the public to understand this problem and to cooperate with the doctors. I have frequently referred to the importance of being examined by a doctor every six months. This should be done regardless of the state of health. It is a part of the plan to detect disease as early as possible and perhaps to prevent it.

I can never understand why so many men will give great care to their cars, yet entirely neglect their own bodies. Upon the slightest "knock or squeak" they will run to the service station and have the car completely overhauled. They never give themselves the overhauling, and call the physician only after the body has been damaged. In the past most medical advice has been for the repair of disorders. It is now hoped that the aid given will be in the direction of preventing diseases and thus eliminating the necessity for repairs. We are now beginning to realize more than ever that it is possible for the doctors to render a greater service than merely prescribing to relieve discomfort. Under proper supervision with periodic examinations it will become possible to lead a healthful life. With this aid, life may be extended and diseases diminished. When this has been accomplished there will be a marked decrease in the economic loss sustained each year.

HIGH-ST HISTORY

SIXTH GRADE
 Miss Sophia Parks' sixth grade made "Health Habit" posters last week. The posters contain a picture clipped from a newspaper or magazine, suggesting a health habit.

The development of transportation is being taken up with the study of history in Miss Sophia Parks' sixth grade.

Essays on Arbor Day were written by sixth grade pupils last week. The best one chosen by Miss Parks, was included in their Arbor Day program.

FIFTH GRADE
 Mrs. Gladys Peters resumed her teaching, Wednesday, after being confined to her home on East Main-st because of sickness, Monday and Tuesday. Miss Marguerite Fohl substituted for her.

Miss Peters' fifth grade is using "The Source Book." It is a set of 30 volumes furnished by Mary Newmeyer.

"Seeing America" by Pitken and Hughes, was received, Monday, in the fifth grade taught by Mrs. Gladys Peters.

Junior Martin, fifth grade, received a broken arm while skating, Sunday.

Edna Buner, Williamsport, Ohio, entered the fifth grade this week. The fifth grade colored boiled eggs last week.

FOURTH GRADE
 Betty Coyne has withdrawn from Miss Kathryn Reid's fourth grade to move to Chillicothe where she will enter one of the Chillicothe schools.

Old bird nests have been gathered and brought to class by boys in Miss Kathryn Reid's fourth grade. Among those that were brought to class were a brown thrasher's and a robin's.

Perfect attendance was recorded in Miss Kathryn Reid's fourth grade, Tuesday.

THIRD GRADE
 A few weeks ago Ned Hardin found an injured crow which he took to his home and cared for. Last week he brought it to school so that other pupils in Miss Burget's third grade may get a close view of such a bird.

Miss Adah Burget was absent, Tuesday afternoon last week. Miss Martha Reid substituted.

Marvina Armstrong has returned to Miss Burget's third grade after a week's absence because of illness.

Benjamin Franklin Briner has entered Miss Adah Burget's third grade as a new pupil.

A set of readers, "Bobby and Betty in the Country," is new in Miss Burget's third grade this week.

SECOND GRADE
 Miss Carrie Johnson substituted for Miss Virginia Marion, who was unable to teach, Tuesday.

FRANKLIN-ST NOTES
SIXTH GRADE
 A. A. White, sixth grade, attended the geography session at Campbell Hall in the morning and the elementary principals' session at the Archaeological Museum in the afternoon, at the teachers' meeting held in Columbus, Friday.

FIFTH GRADE
 In Miss Lucille Neuding's fifth grade A, Alice Lee has withdrawn to enter at Washington-twp school.

FOURTH GRADE
 Pupils in the fourth grade have begun the study of birds, their habits, and their songs.

Elsie Sabine and Ines Seymour have returned to the fourth grade after an absence due to gripple.

Members of the fourth grade are using "Adventures in Reading" by Lowe and Simpson, "Study of Reading" by Walker and Parkham, and "Facts and Fancies" by Lewis and Roland, as textbooks in their reading classes.

THIRD GRADE
 Mrs. Ralph McDill visited her daughter in the third grade of Miss Norma Ross, Wednesday.

Ruth Zimmerman from Kerns-co, California has entered the third grade.

Betty Davis, third grade, has been absent for a short time due to gripple.

SECOND GRADE
 Pupils in Miss Jeanette Row's second grade have constructed an Indian wigwam and are pasting Indian pictures on it. This project was constructed in connection with the class of Indian life.

FIRST GRADE
 Pupils in Miss Helwaga's room are making rabbits, baskets, and posters representing Easter. They are also making Dutch slippers with colored tulips in them besides blue jays designed in connection with bird life, which they are now studying.

Pupils in this same room are studying "Good Times" by Bryce Hardy as a textbook in their reading class.

In Miss Robert's first grade the students are making bunnies and placing them in colored grass with Easter eggs.

Both first grades will unite for their Arbor Day program. This program will consist of stories, poems, songs, and questions.

CORWIN COMMENT
 Dale Reed, Central Ohio Boy Scout Executive, talked to boys of the sixth, seventh and higher special education grades, March 20. Mr. Reed told his audience of the ideals of the scouts, and invited them all to become members.

Pupils in Miss Florence Hoffman's A arithmetic class are using the "demonstrative method" in working arithmetic problems. The students have made miniature houses, fields, and the like to demonstrate their projects.

Everett Accord and Raymond Bethel, pupils in Miss Bernice Buskirk's class have withdrawn. Everett has moved to Chillicothe, and Raymond has gone to Walnut-twp.

Miss Buskirk's seventh grade pupils are studying a new history text, "George Rogers Clark."

A musical program was presented at the weekly meeting of the Willing Workers' club in Miss Buskirk's room, Thursday.

A contest based on the number of 100's each side receives, is being conducted in Miss Buskirk's class. The losers will entertain the winners of the contest. It will close soon.

Robert Dumm, a pupil in Miss Mildred Barthelmas' fourth grade has withdrawn and moved to Pickaway-twp. Robert had not missed a day of school this year, up to the time of his withdrawal.

Students in Miss Marie Hamilton's higher special education class are making Ohio History notes.

books, which will contain all the places of interest to be seen in Ohio. The pupils are also decorating and painting cookie jars.

The class will receive 25 copies of a booklet, entitled, "Scenic and Historic Ohio" from the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society in Columbus.

Miss Helen Kuhn, a pupil in Miss Hamilton's room, wrote the letter requesting the booklets, and Woodrow Cupp, another pupil, wrote to the state highway department requesting information on Ohio roads.

Maynard Heft, a pupil in Miss Hamilton's room has withdrawn, and moved to Mound Crossing, Hocking-co.

EIGHTH EXTRACTS
 All pupils are making contracts in English containing two book reports and two themes.

Elaine Hatzro returned after 7 weeks absence with scarlet fever.

Eighth graders had state tests in English, arithmetic, science, and history, Monday. High totals are James Reichelderfer, with 172 and Virginia Caskey, with 167. Perfect score was 200.

SITE OF TRIPLE MURDER BURNED
 MARYSVILLE, O. — With the burning of the old Marie Scott house at Hall's corners on the Columbus road near here recently passed the site of a triple murder that aroused the entire state 50 years ago.

The building destroyed by fire was the home of three colored persons who were slain by Robert Carnes, a farm hand, on the night of January 17, 1881.

Carnes, sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary on May 13, 1881, and released a few years ago when he developed an illness that soon caused his death, killed Marie Ellen Scott, a young girl; her aunt, Ophelia Clark, 90, and Charles Good, 13, according to the records of county clerk Floyd Karns.

Marie Scott, her aged aunt, the boy and two of her sisters, lived on the farm and employed Carnes. The evening of the murder the two sisters visited a neighbor and when they returned home about ten o'clock that night, they discovered that Marie, the aunt and the boy had been beaten to death with an old-fashioned frying pan.

Carnes was not in the house when the crime was discovered, but came shortly afterward and said that he had just returned from Plain City. There was blood on the sleeve of his coat, and on his boots, which he explained was due to his killing a rabbit the day before.

Carnes was arrested on charges of murder, it being alleged that he attempted to attack Marie Scott and had killed her and then murdered her aged aunt and the boy when they came down stairs after being awakened by the screams of the girl.

The man who heard the trial and handed down the sentence was the late Judge John L. Porter, the father of Judge E. W. Porter of Richwood who occupied the common pleas bench in this county for several terms until he was beaten for re-election by 29 votes last fall.

With the burning of the building probably the last vestige of the crime that attracted so much attention a half-century ago has disappeared. The court officials, the attorneys, members of the petit and grand juries, and others who were associated with the trial or case in any way, have long since died.

UNHOLY ALLIANCES STRUCK IN GERRYMANDER PROPOSAL

COLUMBUS, O.—With home-made verse, admittedly impossible amendments and bitter references to "unholy alliances," the state senate today had expressed its thorough lack of regard for gerrymandering proposals in the Marshall-Norton bill designed to give Ohio two additional congressional districts.

Finding much to condemn and little to applaud, the senate last night by a vote of 18 to 12 rejected the bill which in the main was the same that the senate committee on elections and federal relations recommended out for passage after weeks of pondering over objections voiced by politicians.

Even the compromise dismembering of the reputed "unholy alliance" of Stark and Carroll-cos asked in the bill and separation of Portage from Mahoning-co as a peace gesture could not win enough new friends to get the measure passed.

Eight of the 32 members of the senate introduced amendments to correct what they believed to be mistakes in the contemplated redistricting of their own sections, but only two were successful. Finding no appreciation of his suggested alterations, one senator - William H. Hermer (D) of Monroeville - delivered a six stanza jingle of his own creation which he named "The Coming of the People to the Democratic Standard" but was still unable to get a vote of endorsement.

Despaired that Tuscarawas-co apparently was to be shunned by every district, Senator Walter G. Nickles (R) of New Philadelphia good humoredly presented an amendment by which that section would have been created into a 25th district by itself.

The fact that Congress set Ohio's limit at 24 districts, which was well understood by Senator Nickles when he facetiously offered the suggestion, prevented serious consideration of that plan.

Coming late in the session, the rejection of the bill may mean that no redistricting can be effected during this general assembly and that the state's 23rd and 24th congressmen may have to be chosen in at-large elections.

Senator L. L. Marshall (R) of Cleveland, author of the original redistricting bill, indicated that he may attempt to have the measure reconsidered today.

Though the proposed merger of Stark and Carroll-cos in one district was termed an "unholy alliance" by Senate President Pro Tem Earl R. Lewis (R) of St. Clairsville, a part of the Hermer amendments affecting Lucas-co was described as "an autopsy" by Senator W. W. Farnsworth (R) of Toledo.

"Carroll, small and agricultural, has nothing in common with Stark, which is predominately industrial," Senator Lewis asserted, adding that Carroll "has the same interests of many counties in the proposed eighteenth district, including Jefferson, Harrison, Columbiana and Belmont."

After Lewis pleaded that "I hope this unholy alliance will be broken up," the senate voted approval of his amendment to make the change.

"Dominating power" of Stark-co exercised over Tuscarawas-co was hit by Senator Nickles after Senator J. G. Lowery (R) of New Concord suggested that Tuscarawas take the place vacated by Carroll.

"We've been living under dominating power of Stark-co so long now that we're almost eliminated in a congressional way," Senator Nickles complained.

Senator Frank E. Whittemore (R) of Akron submitted the amendment by which Portage-co would have been taken from Mahoning-co, breaking up the Norton plan for that district, and retained by Lake, Geauga, Ashtabula and Trumbull counties. Only the Lewis and Whittemore amendments were approved.

Senator Robert L. Rohe (R) of Tiffin was charged with "completely rewriting" the Marshall-Norton bill in amendments he introduced. His amendments would have kept Seneca-co in the 13th district, which the Norton plan would have placed in the eighth. Rohe declared his plan was fair "to Democrats and Republicans alike." The Hermer amendments also sought to keep Seneca in the 13th.

Hermer read his verse to the senate after he declared the Marshall-Norton plan to be "distinctly drawn up in the interests of our G. O. P. friends." The "key verses," he said, were:

"They are coming, who are coming?
 Many who have strayed away,
 Voting for one Herbert Hoover
 They are coming back to stay.
 They are coming, who are coming?
 Voters busy as a bee,
 Come to fight within our party
 And defeat the G. O. P."

An "innocent little amendment" by which Senator John A. Lloyd tried to keep Scioto, his own county, joined to western Ohio counties, also failed before the entire bill was rejected.

TO GROW PLANS TO TWICE SIZE
 OXFORD, O.—How plants can be made to grow to twice their original height and weight by means of artificial sunlight was described by Robert E. Withrow of the Basic Research Laboratory, University of Cincinnati, in a talk here before the Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky Academies of Science, holding their joint meeting.

Withrow, who is among members of the Basic Science Research Laboratory staff at Cincinnati associated with Prof. George Sperti in developing the recently announced selective irradiation process for introducing Vitamin D into food products, explained he is using the invisible ultra-violet rays in a series of experiments which show how certain waves stimulate rapid growth, while others not only stunt growth but actually kill the plants.

Tomato plants, cactus, water plants and many other varieties are subjected daily to various kinds of light in the experiment. Those which are grown under indoor winter conditions reach a certain size. Those which receive in addition certain selected ultra-violet waves, grow much more rapidly and attain much greater height, girth and weight, Withrow reported.

EDUCATORS TO MEET THURSDAY
 COLUMBUS, O.—Six thousand educators from Ohio and nearby states are expected here next Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the 11th annual educational conference at Ohio State University around the general theme of "Individuality Through Guidance."

The conference will open Thursday evening with the first of two general sessions. Speakers on the opening program will be President James R. Angell of Yale University, and Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war. President Emeritus W. O. Thompson will preside.

Carlos Davila, Chilean ambassador to the United States and Sir Wilmot Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times, will speak at the second general session scheduled for Friday evening. President G. W. Rightmire will conduct the meeting, which, for the first, will be held in the new gymnasium.

WHAT many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 25c and 50c a bottle; any drugstore. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle.

The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the Phillips' name on bottle.

Do you know that thinking Americans have invested $800,000,000 more in BUICKS now in operation than in any other car in Buick's field?

Over 1,500,000* Buicks are in active service today—750,000 more than the second car in its price range.

Moreover, so satisfactory are these Buick cars that 88% of all Buick owners buy Buicks again and again.

Finally, the outstanding quality which has made these two great records possible is now winning for Buick MORE THAN 50 OUT OF EVERY 100 SALES OF THE 14 EIGHTS IN BUICK'S PRICE CLASS

LOUD SPEAKER TO HELP BOSS

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—A loud-speaker system has just been installed in the 12-inch hot strip mill of the Sharon Steel Hoop Company, and officials of the company say it is a success.

A continuous strip mill is several hundred feet in length and men employed in it are placed at widely separated stations. With the installation of the loud-speaker system, orders can be relayed to the workers without a strain upon the vocal chords and with the assurance that each man may hear them.

Previously the roller, or the "boss" of strip mill employees, had to shout his lungs away from what was called the mill "control pulpit."

BUENOS AIRES—A total of 725,400 persons have paid admittance so far to the British trade exposition, which opened three weeks ago. Several thousand school children have been admitted free.

PIG LITTERS HOLD INTEREST

COLUMBUS, O.—Pigs will be in the limelight this Spring for some 523 vocational agriculture students in 90 high schools and more than 15 4-H club boys when they attempt to make a litter of pigs weigh a ton or more within 180 days.

Approximately 540 farm boys have enrolled in the hog-litter club, according to J. W. N. Schol, extension specialist in animal husbandry at Ohio State University.

Only those boys having had previous experience in raising pigs in a pork production, or sow and litter projects were permitted to enroll in the club and compete for the medals they become eligible for after completing the project successfully.

The aim of the project, Wulchert asserts, is to teach the principles of economical pork production and to acquaint farm boys with the most efficient hog management practices.

BUYS 276 ACRES FOR REFORESTING

ASHTABULA, O.—M. F. Bramley, Cleveland millionaire and explorer, has purchased the Clarence Crabtree estate of 276 acres in Rome township for reforestation. Bramley also is negotiating the purchase of land in Hartsgrove township for the same purpose.

LA PAZ, Bolivia — President Daniel Salamanca settled a threatened student strike by announcing the back salaries of all teachers would be paid shortly. The students declared they would walk out on strike unless instructors were paid at once.

SHANGHAI—A group of vintners commanders has attacked the forces of Li Chi-Hsiang, Szechwan province, provoking sharp conflicts. The Nanking government has ordered another division to halt the civil war.

WHO'LL TAKE ROCKNE JOB?

Name of Hunk Anderson Being Discussed at Large As Successor To Rockne.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 7.—Wherever Notre Dame men gathered today there was one topic upon the lips:

"Who will take Knute Rockne's place?"

There will be a head coach. And there will be an athletic director. Perhaps there may be a combination of both. At least it is certain that these positions will be filled.

But by whom—and when? There was no one who could supply the answer.

As far as the school itself is concerned any attempt at finding a successor for Rockne would be like devising a substitute for the sunrise.

From the Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, president, down to the young chap who earned the title of "chair bearer" for Knute last season the feeling was that there is no man who can take Rockne's place. And this is seconded by the multitude.

Members of the faculty refuse to discuss the subject at this time but as far as the job of directing the football team is concerned "Hunk" Anderson likely will carry on at least for the 1931 season.

Had Rockne lived, this would have been the situation in the season of 1933 because Knute himself had indicated that at the expiration of his contract he would turn over to Anderson and continue as athletic director with the honorary title of advisory coach.

That combination would have been ideal because there always would be a Rockne around in a "pinch" just as there was when Northwestern was beaten in 1926, Southern California the same year; and the Army in 1928—in the last minutes of play when the magic touch of a Rockne gave Notre Dame that winning edge.

Anderson knows everything there is to know about Notre Dame football as it is constituted at present. He knows the players and he knew what the plans were for the 1931 season. It is a known fact that the success of Notre Dame teams have their foundation in the spring. It is at this time that the regular team is picked. There is no man better qualified than "Hunk" to swing into the 1931 schedule.

Working under Rockne, Anderson turned out a corking job in developing line men, in fact as a line coach he hasn't an assistant in the country. But Anderson did not inherit the Rockne magnetism or the Rockne psychology. Knute took that with him.

In the execution of plays and the faculty to find men to execute them Anderson will fill the bill but there was much more than the execution of plays and the selection of men in the way Notre Dame played football. That was where Rockne sparkled.

MARIETTA COLLEGE AIDED BY JOHNSON

CHICAGO, Ill., April 8.—The will of Ben Johnson, late American league president, the amount of whose estate was estimated at more than $250,000, will be filed here today in probate court.

Mrs. Johnson, a brother and a sister-in-law are to have annuities from the estate until their deaths, according to the terms of the document.

Miss Evelyn O'Connor and Miss Florence Johnson, cousins, received $25,000 and $10,000 respectively.

BANK TRIAL SET

HAMILTON, O., April 7. Trial of E. T. McCue, former cashier of the Commercial Bank at Middletown, O. which was closed last June, will be started April 28 before Judge Clinton B. Boyd in common pleas court. It was stated today, McCue is charged with the embezzlement of $5,700.

When News Travelled More Slowly

Although newspaper reporters in Ohio and all over the world find the telephone indispensable in gathering news of the day and communicating it to their newspaper offices, the reporter who first used the instrument for this purpose died only recently in Salem, Mass., according to officials of The Ohio Bell Telephone Company.

The late Henry M. Batchelder telephoned the first story in 1877 to the Boston Globe from Salem, where he was the newspaper's correspondent. It was an account of a lecture by Alexander Graham Bell on the then new invention, the telephone.

JAP WRESTLER GOES TO SCHOOL

CINCINNATI, O.—During the day, a be-spectacled young Japanese student, Yasuji M. Fujita, mingles unobtrusively with College of Liberal Arts faculty and students at the University of Cincinnati.

At night, the Japanese wrestler and jiu-jitsu artist Tota Shima, turns large audiences of mat fans with his ability in American catch-as-catch-can methods.

When Fujita the student, removes his horned-rim glasses and changes from street clothes into a gym outfit, he becomes Shima the wrestler, who has twice challenged Jack Reynolds, world welterweight wrestling champion.

More than 5,000 persons recently crowded into Mueve Hall here to see the Reynolds-Shima match, which the Japanese challenger lost after withstanding Reynolds' skill for more than 30 minutes.

Fujita explains that he selected Shima as his professional name because he was afraid the American public would not readily familiarize itself with the more complicated name of Fujita.

He carries a full course at the University, specializing in sociology. He attended Pasadena, Cal. College three years and was graduated from the law department of Meiji University, Tokyo, his birthplace, in 1925.

While in college at Tokyo, he was for three years captain of the jiu-jitsu team. At the age of 16 he won the Japanese intermediate jiu-jitsu championship.

Two years later, he won the intercollegiate, and in 1925 was acclaimed international jiu-jitsu champion, a title he relinquished only to another by default, since he left Japan for America before the next annual contest. He has never lost a jiu-jitsu match.

Although twice defeated by Reynolds, Fujita, hopes to challenge him a third time in the Fall after a summer of rigorous training in California. Fujita claims he was not in tip-top condition in either of his matches with Reynolds.

HOOVER HAS AN OPPONENT

Marylander, Former Senator, Against Things in General Through Nation.

BALTIMORE, April 8.—President Hoover is to have at least one opponent for the Republican presidential nomination.

Dr. Joseph I. France, who represented Maryland in the United States Senate from 1917 to 1923, announced here that he will formally file papers as a candidate in his native Maryland, and enter the primaries in other states as well.

He advocates repeal of the eighteenth amendment, opposes all forms of government ownership or subsidy in business, proposes to recognize Russia, and opposes the League of Nations in every respect.

During his senatorial career, Dr. France was known for the independence of his views. He voted against submission of the 18th amendment, woman suffrage, and was an irreconcilable in the protracted League of Nations fight.

Problem for Solomon

Superior Court Judge Lester W. Roth, of Los Angeles, Cal., was confronted with the knotty problem of a father asking the courts to prevent his son from becoming an ungainly giant, and a mother who doesn't care how large her son grows so long as he remains healthy and bright. The youth is Adolphe Edward Roome, Jr., who is only 14 years old, weighs 235 pounds, and is over six feet tall. He is shown with his mother in court as she appeared to fight the father's request that science be invoked to prohibit further growth of the boy.

See Schorr In House Trouble

COLUMBUS.—G. O. P. insurgency threatened its Republican leadership as Ohio's general assembly entered upon the last week of its regular session Monday night. Openly under fire of members of the Republican majority, irked by rulings they resented, displeased by procedure that gave what they considered inconsequential bills preference over what they considered important, were Arthur Hamilton, speaker of the house, Lester J. Abele, Republican floor leader. In the background, the real target of party dissenters but not exposed to fire on the floor was Edward D. Schorr, state chairman, boss of Hamilton county, late Commerce Director under the Cooper administration.

Behind the scenes, in touch with assembly leaders, Schorr has been directing the legislative course of the Republican majority. Anti-Cooper, anti-Schorr Republicans understood this, held their tongues until it became known that Schorr had intervened in committee consideration of an elections bill. His purpose was to write into it a provision grouping all independent candidates in one column without designation on future ballots. This aroused independent Republicans of Cincinnati who fought such an arrangement through the Supreme Court last fall defeated efforts of Schorr's organization to submerge their candidates. They protested, Republicans in the legislature shared their feelings. This led to strategic moves on the floor of the house to frustrate the leadership dominated by Schorr.

So as the last week before the April 10 recess of the assembly began control of the Republican majority by its leaders was slipping. It was doubtful whether party measures could be rushed through in the closing days as planned. Out of nearly 1,000 measures introduced fewer than 100 had been acted upon. It seemed likely that the time limit would be reached with all measures except those pertaining to taxation, appropriation and welfare plans automatically dying and only a dozen or so of important proposals translated into law. Few there were to deplore that prospect except Republican leaders who feared pet schemes would perish with the miscellaneous hundreds of ideas already as good as dead. Public opinion was that the less the legislature accomplished, except in the matter of taxation, appropriations and welfare to be taken up April 27 after the recess, the better off the state would be.

Most important legislative development of the past week was the transmission of a message from Governor George White proposing appointment by the governor of a committee to study unemployment insurance. Said the Governor: "Failure of legislative committees to allow the unemployment insurance bill to be discussed on the floor does not solve the question. Unemployment, with all the suffering, want and sickness that go with it, is still with us, unsolved. The question of what is best to do when thousands of our people are unemployed is one which must be met."

Certain Republicans read in this a rebuke to them mildly scolded

GET RID OF DISEASE GERMS in nose mouth and throat

Let Zonite cleanse away the accumulated secretions kill the germs prevent disease. Having germicidal, soothing to membranes.

Our druggist recommended Carter's Little Liver Pills. He said these little vegetable pills would tone up the liver, stir up the bile, which, acting as an antiseptic, keeps the food from rotting, and poisoning the blood. They are not habit forming and thoroughly cleanse the upper and lower bowel. Laxatives fail to do this.

DON'T BE A SLAVE TO LAXATIVES

Mrs. E. Gobbard, 301 W. 5th St., Newport, Ky., says, "My husband and I were actually slaves to laxatives, continuously dosing ourselves with something to relieve constipation. Just couldn't stop. It got to be a habit. We even gave our children laxatives in candy form. Little did we realize that we were only aggravating and not reaching the cause of the constipation. Headaches, biliousness, indigestion and constipation still continued."
